JUNO Cup Luncheon and “SaskTel Battle of the Bands” Added to JUNO Cup Schedule

Prince Albert, Saskatchewan (March 5, 2007) – The Art Hauser Centre unveiled today that two special events have been added to the JUNO Cup schedule.

The Centre will be hosting a JUNO Cup Luncheon at the Ches Leach Lounge on Thursday March 30, 2007. The luncheon will feature a keynote speech from legendary NHL tough guy Bob Probert. Also in attendance will be NHL greats Mark Napier, Dave Manson, Tim Cheveldae and Brian Glynn.

“You don’t get many chances to sit down at the table for lunch with some NHL greats, so this is a great opportunity for any NHL fan”, said Victor Goodman, member on the Prince Albert JUNO Cup Committee.

Each ticket to the JUNO Cup luncheon includes one premium seat for the JUNO Cup game and the chance to bid on silent auction items.

Tickets are $50 each or $400 per table. Tickets for the JUNO Cup Luncheon can be purchased at the Art Hauser Centre office or by calling the office at 953-4848.

The Art Hauser Centre will also be hosting the “SaskTel Battle of the Bands” on the afternoon of March 30th. The “SaskTel Battle of the Bands” will feature the best high school rock bands in Prince Albert dueling it out for garage band supremacy. Voting for the winning band will be conducted via text messaging using cell phones connected on the SaskTel network.

“The SaskTel Battle of the Bands will be a unique and fun event that will give valuable exposure to all competitors, as well as a great free event for the public to attend,” said Deb Higgins, Minister Responsible for SaskTel. “I’d like to wish all competitors good luck.”

“We’re expecting a large crowd to come out, so we are advising anyone interested in participating to arrive ahead of time,” added Goodman.

Goodman said the excitement over the upcoming JUNO Cup is continuing to build within the City. “The response we’ve had so far has been amazing. There’s no doubt that the JUNO Cup events are going to give Prince Albert a chance to show the whole country what a great community we have.”
